THE CHALLENGE
As information technology (IT) continues to evolve and the demand for IT support increases, government agencies need an efficient contracting vehicle that they can use to solicit timely, high-quality IT services and solutions for their programs.

THE SOLUTION
Alliant is a multiple-award indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity (IDIQ) government-wide acquisition contract (GWAC) that provides U.S. government customers with integrated IT solutions support. Sponsored by the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA), it offers a 10-year period of performance (five-year base with a five-year option) and enables pre-qualified contractors to deliver comprehensive IT solutions using a broad range of services, including:

- Information architecture
- Systems integration
- Infrastructure modernization
- IT security initiatives

In addition to including all current technologies, as the definition of IT expands during Alliant’s lifecycle, the contract’s scope will bend to encompass new technologies and definitions.

ALLIANT’S KEY FEATURES
- Available to all federal agencies worldwide
- Supports regional and global IT requirements
- Provides streamlined, proven acquisition process
- Supports fixed price, time and materials, and cost tasks
- Potential 10-year period of performance (2009-2019) (includes five-year base with a five-year option)
- $50 billion contract ceiling
- 58 pre-qualified contractors
- Offers two acquisition methods: GSA-managed and customer-managed

ALLIANT TASK ORDER PROCESS

Government agencies may use the Alliant contract to solicit IT program support in one of the following two ways:

GSA Managed Acquisitions

1. GSA-managed acquisition: A client agency may elect to have GSA provide full acquisition and/or program/project management services from cradle to grave. This includes assisted services provided by GSA’s Federal Acquisition Service (FAS) Client Support Centers in which FAS provides end-to-end support services to the client agency through a FAS Interagency Agreement (IA).

2. Customer-managed acquisition: A client agency may alternatively elect a customer-managed acquisition — also called Direct Order / Direct Bill (DO/DB) — in which the agency enters into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) for interagency contracting with GSA. In this case, the client agency contracting officers receive DO/DB training and a Delegation of Procurement Authority from the Alliant ACO to issue, modify and manage task orders. Under DO/DB authority, the client agency is responsible for its own acquisition and program/project management.

Customer Managed Acquisitions
